Have you ever struggled with your body image or in a moment of depression asked, "Why am I ugly?!" Bestselling author Elizabeth George wants you to experience the confidence of knowing that you are beautiful in God's eyes. Many young women struggle with eating disorders or distorted body images because they believe the world's version of ultimate beauty, perfection, or femininity. They are deciding, based on those lies, that they are too ugly, too fat, too different, too unloveable. It's time to give your body image a makeover by using God's truth as your mirror. Surround yourself with inspiring Bible verses and Elizabeth's encouraging guidance to discover purpose and confidence you've only dreamed of having. If you want to see something really beautiful, take a look at the incredible young woman God made you to be.

Offers easy-to-follow instructions, tips, and techniques for applying makeup to create sensational looks.

A seductive and exotic photo-essay, "Green Eyes, the Greenest Fields", combines great literary references with stunning photographs of people from Africa, Asia, South America, India, Europe, and America, who all share the common trait of "green". Unlike other eye colors, such as brown or blue, green eyes are a genetic roll of the dice, which can appear within each generation, or each hundredth generation, and represent not only our common ancestries due to commerce and cultural exchange, but also our kinship with the Earth itself. This book is a fabulous photographic work that will keep you coming back for more.

Sometimes, the things that a child hears about himself or herself is confusing to him or her. That is the case with the young boy in Almond Eyes. As a young child, he is constantly told that he has "beautiful Almond Eyes". He doesn't understand what this means until he asks his mother. She explains that his eyes are shaped like almonds because he is Korean. The boy then notices the different eye shapes of all of his friends. This is a wonderful book about celebrating the differences among friends.
