There are lots of things that could make the home purchase of your dreams turn into a short or longer term nightmare. The role of property searches is to make sure that homebuyers have all the facts about a property before they buy it and do not find out about serious problems afterwards when it is too late.

What are property searches and why do I need them?

Get to Know Your Home. Begin your search by looking closely at the building for clues about its age. Look at the type of construction, the materials used in construction, the shape of the roofline, the placement of the windows, etc.

Tracing the History and Genealogy of Your Home

Property searches (also known as conveyancing searches) are enquiries made by your solicitor to find out more information about a property you plan to purchase. As part of the home-buying process, your conveyancer will carry out a variety of 'searches' with the local authority and other parties. The main searches when buying a property are:
