Piano Trio in a minor, Op. 50, 1882 The music of Pyotr Ilyich Tchaikovsky ranks among the most popular and beloved in the classical tradition. Known primarily for his orchestral and ballet music (as well as two favorite operas), he possessed a brilliant gift for winning lyricism, passionate expressivity, brilliant color and a blend of classic European sensibility with an unmistakable Russian character.

"Röntgen's 1904 prize winning Piano Trio in e minor, Op.50 won at the Concours International de Musique in Paris and was dedicated to Carl Nielsen with whom he was quite friendly. Of it, Nielsen wrote to Röntgen, "Your trio is carried along by an extremely individual and compelling musical current, which despite its modern content seems to have its roots in the vicinity of Schubert."
