As you start to show your work, pay attention to the feedback you receive. Just like a student in math class, one of the biggest benefits of showing your work is that you're able to refine your process over time. This means incorporating the feedback you receive, but it also means learning from the people who are learning from you.

Why You Need to Show Your Work | Constant Contact

As a child, you probably had math teachers who admonished you to show your work. They wanted to see how you formulated your answers, and what mistakes or innovations you made along the way. Showing your work at the office, in effect, does the same thing. It allows others to see your process instead of only your final product.
