The antlered ship is delightfully detailed and decorated, the pirates our heroes encounter are appropriately toothy and threatening (even the cutlass-wielding mouse), and the sepia-colored maps on the endpapers feature deliciously evocative names. The old-fashioned appearance of the Fans' artwork perfectly suits Slater's contemplative, musing tone.

The Antlered Ship is made up of an eclectic mix of animals: pigeons, deer and a fox. For much of the story, Marco is focused on how they are different. Foxes, after all, he muses when the food has run out, are not meant to be vegetarian. He is desperate to find other foxes and sure that the other animals cannot possibly answer his questions.

Where “ The Night Gardener ” relegated itself primarily to blues and blacks and grays, “ The Antlered Ship ” is a dawn and magic hour story. No sky is ever a clear baby blue. They are are rose and peach at dawn, gray and white in storms, deep navy and white at night, and sometimes that strange misty white you get on a day when the sky isn ' t really any color at all.
